7. Are there any special types of transactions and/or limits I should know about before I use the Card?

Yes, there are. There are some types of transaction whereby the merchant will 'hold' your funds for a short period of time, like a refundable deposit. Therefore, the withheld amount will not be available until the merchant 'releases' it. Please be mindful of the following types of transactions and also ensure you have sufficient funds in your Wallet Account:

Petrol Stations – when you pay at the pump, the merchant will reserve RM200.00 in your Wallet Account. The unutilised funds will be released within three (3) working days back into your Wallet Account. To avoid this, best to proceed to the cashier counter and pay the exact amount with the Card.

Hotels – some hotels will ask for a 'deposit' upon your check-in with a payment card. Do ask them how much they plan to take as a 'deposit'. This amount will be put on 'hold'. The merchant will 'release' the funds after you check out, but sometimes it may take a few days.

Recurring Payment – if you signed up for this, please ensure you have sufficient funds in your Wallet Account before its due date.

For cash withdrawal, the daily limit is RM2,990.00, subject to ATM's notes disbursement capabilities.
